During Reading
 Silent Reading of the Story: (Note to the teacher: To make the reading more interesting prepare a series of pictures that would show the events in the story.)

Proud Father Frog

One morning, Baby Frog was taking a hop in the pond when he saw something very big. It was a carabao but he thought it was a giant frog. How frightened Baby Frog was! And when the carabao moomed, Baby frog ran home trembling with fear. "Oh, Father," he cried I saw a very big frog in the pond. Father frog said, He can't be bigger than I. I'm the biggest frog in this place. But he's very much bigger than you are, Father. Father Frog blew himself out until his stomach was round as a ball. "Look at me now, is he bigger than I?" "Very much bigger, Father, said Baby Frog. But he's very much bigger than you Father," said the little frog. Again Father Frog puffed himself out some more. He can't be bigger than I. Proud Father Frog didn't like the answer. He took a deep breath. Then he blew himself out until his stomach burst.

Post Reading

Engagement Activity 1

Divide the class into 6. Let them prepare for role playing using the story train drawn by the teacher on the board. The groups will be given strips of paper following the story train. They will write the events on the strip of paper.

The Story Train would look like this:

GRADE III

The groups will write on the strips of paper the events in the story.

- Group 1 – Starts the first event. (Baby Frog was taking a hop in the pond.)
- Group 2 – Second events, soon... (He saw a carabao. But he thought it was a giant frog.)
- Group 3 – Then... (The carabao mooded. He ran home trembling with fear.)
- Group 4 – Next... (The baby frog cried. He told his father a biggest frog in the place.)
- Group 5 – Later,... (The father popped his stomach to see that he's bigger than the carabao.)
- Group 6 – Finally... (Father frog stomach burst.)

Engagement Activity 2

As the group presents, they will hold together like a train to show the event. The leader holds the strip of paper! Let's present the story as we recall the story.

Ask: 1. What happened first?

- Group 1, will you present your work? (Group hopping)
- 2. Soon, what happened? Grou 2 acting out. (Seeing a carabao)
- 3. What do you think must ne on his mind when he saw the carabao? What happen then? Group 3 show (Running trembling with fear)
- 4. If you were Baby Frog would you also fear something that is bigger than you? Why? What happen next? Group 4 acting out (crying)
- 5. Later, what happened? Group 5 showing (popping stomach - bigger than I?)
- 6. Finally, for the last train, what happened in the story? Group 6 showing (stomach burst)

How do we arrange events as to time order? What are the cue words or sequence signals used?

Remember:

Time sequence refers to the order in which events happened. Cue words or sequence signals such as first, soon, then, next, later, afterwards, and finally will help us determine the order of events.

GRADE IV

Skill Development

Practice A

Let us have an exercises arranging sentences using cue words.

Number the following sentences to show how wood is taken from the forest.

_____ Then, thier branches and leaves are cut-off.

_____ First, trees are cut down.

_____ They are now logs.

_____ These logs are cut-up into large pieces of wood called lumber for building houses.

_____ Next, the logs are taken in the logging trucks to nearby sawmills.

Practice B

Read the selection. Arrange in the given sentences in their correct sequence.

--	--

1. Pedro was fishing in his small banca, Just then he felt a pull on his line. He had caught a golden fish.

"Let me go and I'll make you rich," said the fish.

Pedro let the fish go. He becomes rich.

a. becoming rich

GRADE III	2. Have you ever heard of "Borrowing Ben?" who borrows and borrows everything he can? One day, he borrowed pen and books and toys, He borrowed from girls, he borrowed my kits, my ball, my bat, And then, he borrowed my jacket and my boots. He borrowed all things, both big and small. But he never returned anything at all. <ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>a. borrowed books and toys</li> <li>b. borrowed a ball and a bat</li> <li>c. borrowed socks and shoes</li> <li>d. borrowed jacket and boots</li> <li>e. borrowed a shirt and a hat</li> </ol> <ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>1. a, b, c, e, d                      3. b, c, a, d, e</li> <li>2. a, b, d, c, e                      4. d, a, e, b, c</li> </ol>

Dialog/Generalization

What are the words that are encircled in the sentences? (Baby Frog, he, I, he, the carabao_ What are these called? (Nouns and pronouns. They are spoken of in the sentence.) Let's read the underlined words in the sentences. What are the words called? (verbs) They tell something.

Then say: The encircled words is the subject of the sentence. It is the person, place, or thing spoken of in the sentence. The underlined word is the predicate. It tells something about the subject. A sentence has a subject and a predicate.

Remember:

Simple subject is the person, place or things spoken of in the sentences. Simple predicate tells something about the subject.

Say: Look inside the room. Let's construct sentences using simple subject and predicate.

1. The books are on the table.
2. Josie sits on her desk.
3. The teacher writes on the board.
4. The children listen to the teacher.
5. Lito and Armando sweep the floor.

Write the sentences on the board.

Discuss the subject and predicate in the sentences.
(Let pupil's encircle the subject and underline the predicate.)

Assimilation
 Group the pupils into four. Each group will receive a picture. Let the group write sentences about the picture.

Group 1
 The carabao plows the field.

Group 2
 The boy sits under the tree.

Group 1
 baby cries _____ children play _____

Group 3
 Daisy tells a story.

Practice A

Here are some sentences.

1. A little boy's kite got caught in the bell town.
2. Little mary helped her Mother sets the table.
3. The baby came home from the hospital.

What is the complete subject in No. 1? (A little boy's kite)
 What is the simple subject? (kite)
 What word in the subject gives a complete picture of the simple subject kite? (a little boy's)
 (These words are modifiers)
 In the same sentence, what is the simple subject? (got caught)
 What other words are with the predicate? (These words are complements.)
 What are the modifiers and complements in sentences 2 and 3?
Generalization
 How can we make sentences more colorful and interesting?
 (Sentences can be more interesting and colorful if we add modifiers to the subject and complements to the predicate.)
 Let's have this exercise. Make these sentences colorful and interesting by giving appropriate modifiers and complements.
